R.W. CAULFIELD AWARD FOR LEADERSHIP

This award recognizes the unique contributions and bold vision of R.W. (Bill) Caulfield, Executive Director of CGA-BC from 1983-2010. Bill was a leader with exceptional insight; he was a driving force in BC, elevating the professional status of CGA and assisting affiliates across Canada to achieve similar prominence. His bold and innovative use of high profile marketing campaigns brought our Association to prominence in British Columbia. His vision extended to the use of technology, enabling the integration of computers into the CGA curriculum and ensuring that CGA-BC was an early adopter of technologies in its business practices.

The recipient of this award will be a leader who encourages others and facilitates boldness in thinking. They will be known as an ethical role model setting the highest standards of integrity. They must be recognized as a visionary leader in their organization, public service, public office, or community activities.

Nominations must provide evidence of leadership and innovation in such areas as:

- Showing a measurable impact on the management or governance of their organization.
- Demonstrating the courage to challenge conventional thinking leading to exceptional results.
- Demonstrating excellence in empowerment and cooperative ventures, motivating others to action.
- Overcoming significant leadership challenges and inspiring others to greater heights.
- Volunteer and community efforts that have inspired others.

We are looking for an exceptional leader who recognizes the changing landscape of leadership and who continues to challenge the status quo.

For further details on completing the nomination, see Guidelines for Completion.

Eligibility

The individual nominated must be a CGA-BC member. It is expected that a maximum of one award will be conferred each year, although not necessarily every year.

Nomination

Nominations can be made by any five members of CGA-Canada. The nomination form must be completed and signed and accompanied by a narrative describing the nominee's demonstrated qualities as outlined.

In addition to the reasons for nomination provided by the five nominators, a minimum of two letters of support (not necessarily from CGA members) must accompany the nomination.

Completed nominations must be received by March 15th of each year. The nomination is judged solely on the information provided.
